SCOTT AVIATION IS NOW AVOX SYSTEMS INC.,
PART OF THE ZODIAC GROUP

On September 1, 2004, Scott Aviation, Inc. of Lancaster, New York was acquired by the Zodiac Group and will now be known as AVOX Systems Inc.

These two highly experienced aerospace manufacturers (Zodiac and AVOX Systems Inc.) combined bring over 170 years of expertise to the aviation marketplace. AVOX Systems Inc. will be part of Zodiac's Aircraft Systems oxygen business. Product manufactured and serviced by Zodiac include: oxygen and life support systems, fuel systems, passenger and crew seating, galley kitchen equipment, sanitation systems, hydraulic servo valves, electrical power management, external lighting, flight deck controls, light panels and displays.

AVOX Systems Inc., a recognized leader in onboard oxygen systems since 1932, will continue operations in Lancaster, NY, providing cylinders, valves and regulator assemblies, chemical oxygen systems, and air crew and passenger oxygen masks to both civilian and military markets.

The bond forged between these aerospace industry leaders will further enhance their capabilities in product development and customer-focused services. Today, AVOX Systems Inc. provides customers with a complete portfolio of products and innovative system solutions to meet all aviation oxygen needs. For further information, contact Thomas B.
